

Comments from Andre Timoll

Good Morning

My name is Andre Timoll and my take on the EV framework is that the government should give owners the value of their car or truck so they can make a down payment for an EV. The government can make back the money by selling the car or truck to scrap metal dealers.

We are past the point of no return regarding climate change so we must act now.

Regards
Andre Timoll